The Burnside Partnership

Specialist Private Client Lawyers & Tax Experts

A guide for clients

Welcome to The Burnside Partnership

This guide explains who we are, what we do and how, when you become our client, we put your care at the centre of our approach.

We are here to make your life easier, whatever the opportunity or obstacle you are facing. If you want to structure your tax matters more efficiently, provide for a secure future or attain peace of mind with an updated will, we can help. We can support you to administer a loved one's estate following a bereavement or guide you through a dispute within your family.

Our award-winning team handles a huge variety of legal and tax services, and many of our lawyers and tax advisors are recognised experts in their field. We offer more than just technical expertise, however. Our clients have come to expect canny thinking, deployed to achieve the best results possible. To achieve those results, we sometimes collaborate with professionals working in areas outside of our expertise - financial advisors, surveyors, property agents or lawyers practising in other areas of the law. As our client, you can be sure we will never recommend another professional we have not worked with before and would not use ourselves.

We enjoy getting to know our clients, often forming relationships that span generations. We are a new breed of private client consultancy: our vision is to support you with life, not just law, and as such we are constantly expanding what we offer. Read on to discover the breadth of our services, and the commitment we make when we work with you, in our Client Service Pledge.

Why instruct our firm?

Three reasons clients choose to instruct us:

1. Because we're experts - we're a specialist firm and have in-depth knowledge. We believe there's no substitute for experience. We work to the highest standards and many of our advisors are recognised experts in their field - see Page 3 for details.
2. Because we aim for the highest standard of client service - we're here to make our clients' lives easier and excellence in our client service drives our whole approach. To this end, everyone at our firm is committed to adhering to our Client Service Pledge - see Page 7.
3. Because we provide multi-disciplinary advice - our firm brings together lawyers and tax professionals under one roof, allowing a unique breadth and depth to our expertise. What's more, we work with other experts too.

We're able to advise both individuals and charities on any contentious matter, including Will challenges; claims against estates under the Inheritance Act; and trust disputes between trustees, or trustees and beneficiaries.

Disputes after the death of a relative can be distressing, acrimonious and complex. We take a sensitive and proactive approach, favouring a swift approach to review a claim and advise on next steps to protect the client's position. We work hard to achieve the best possible outcome in the most cost-effective way.

Examples of the areas where we can provide expert and practical advice include cross-border wealth structuring and the use of offshore holding vehicles; compliance and risk management aspects of tax and trust transparency measures; pre-UK residence planning and restructuring; and examining an individual's UK tax residence status.

Tax & Trusts

Tax planning

Our experts advise on all aspects of inheritance tax (IHT), capital gains tax (CGT) and income tax, for both UK and overseas individuals. We also deal with succession, exit and retirement planning, together with the consequences of divorce and separation.

Non-dom tax planning

Special tax opportunities are available where a client is legally domiciled outside the UK. We advise on domiciled status and explore options available to protect capital, as well as exploring the savings that can be made through using trust-based structures.

IHT planning & the family business

The current tax rules offer several highly favourable tax saving options for owners of a family business. There is no guarantee that these rules will stay in place indefinitely, and now is a good time to take stock of the options available. Whilst the potential for saving tax is highly important, it is important to do what is right for you. Our experts are here to advise you.

Trusts

Trusts can be very valuable vehicles for safeguarding family and business assets. However, they are complex legal arrangements. We guide clients through the complications.

Trusts administration & compliance

We assist trustees with the tax affairs, management and administration of trusts. Trusts can be liable to a range of tax compliance issues and we can ensure these are all dealt with.

Tax health checks

We can review clients' income and capital requirements and help them plan ahead, whether for retirement, selling a business or for succession purposes.

Personal tax compliance

We can prepare self-assessment tax returns, as well as tax repayment claims. We also advise on clients' reporting obligations and provide guidance on correspondence or enquiries with HMRC. We advise clients on the tax consequences of various types of investments, including SEIS, EIS, pensions and shares and maximise the utilisation of tax reliefs and losses.
