Our Organic Honey

At Endaar, we create premium organic honey through a natural process, starting with carefully chosen bee-friendly apiary locations.

We partner with local beekeepers who share our sustainability values. Our bees thrive in pesticide-free zones, collecting nectar from diverse flora. Ethical beekeeping, careful harvesting, and delicate extraction yield pure, additive-free honey.

Types of honey we produce:

- ✓ Mountain Sidr Honey
- ✓ Mountain Thistle (Tarfah) Honey
- ✓ Acacia Honey
- ✓ Arugula Honey
- ✓ Mangrove Honey
- ✓ Sumra Honey

Our Process

1

Hive Management

We manage projects meticulously, partnering with skilled beekeepers for thriving, joyful bees amid diverse organic flora, ensuring a vibrant ecosystem.

2

Harvesting

With care, we harvest using gentle methods and specialized gear, leaving ample resources for the bees during winter. Our approach gathers not only honey but also beneficial products like beeswax and propolis, known for health advantages.

4

Filtering and Storing

We purify honey through meticulous filtration, eliminating impurities, and store it in eco-friendly tanks. This upholds our rigorous criteria for flavor, consistency, and nutrition while preserving the utmost purity and quality.

3

Extraction

Following harvest, our specialized extraction process carefully separates honey from comb, preserving flavor and nutrition, while efficiently isolating beeswax and propolis to minimize waste and maintain integrity.

5

Quality Control

Our honey and beehive products undergo stringent quality tests, aligning with our flavor, consistency, and nutrition benchmarks. Our dedication to quality and sustainability distinguishes us, assuring customers of unparalleled excellence.
